

Chemical Toilets

Rawley Plant Ltd. has over 20 years' experience in providing serviced chemical toilets to house builders, construction and civil engineering sites and other businesses throughout the south east of England.

Reliable Servicing

We provide a weekly pump out service. As we employ all our own drivers, service attendants and pumping vehicles, we are able to ensure an efficient and reliable service.

Our processes for planning, recording and monitoring our site toilet servicing are meticulous. Our careful attention to service ensures your toilets are always ready for use.

Here's what the trade association has to say about us:

"Rawley Plant Ltd is a superb example of just how a portable toilet hire company should run. All systems are simple, yet fool-proof, with checks and balances being constantly carried out...Rawley Plant's attention to detail and its internal systems eliminate the possibility of any member of staff not providing the level of service the company desires. Visits are made by management to check on the service provided to site."
